BABIES' KILLER FINISHED CRIME IN 10 MINUTES

Hospital Official Reveals Infants Left Unwatched Only That Time.

By The Associated Press

MASSILLON, O., June 10—The killer of two tiny babies in the pediatrics nursery of Massillon City hospital last Friday night completed his work in 10 short minutes, City Hospital Supt. E. J. Lincke disclosed today.

In a news conference, Lincke said it had been established definitely the two infant girls were found dying at 7:45 p. m.

Yet, 10 minutes earlier, the nurse who found the battered babies had seen them sleeping peacefully.

"The 7:45 p. m. time is definitely established," said Lincke, "but I asked Nurse Marian Silleck how she knew, and she said that in checking the babies' pulses for signs of life, she looked at her wrist watch and saw the time."

Checked Every 10 Minutes

Lincke said it was customary for Nurse Silleck and other City hospital nurses to check the pediatrics nursery each five or 10-minutes. Supplies were kept there.

Besides Diane J. Brand, 10 weeks, and Rosemary Morton, nine weeks, there were 17 other patients on the fourth floor of the hospital Friday night, the eldest nine years of age.

There were five or six visitors, another nurse, Murna Crost, and Nurse Silleck.

All of the visitors to the fourth floor departed before the time of the deaths except one, said Lincke. The superintendent said Ralph Fricke, of Canal Fulton, O., nearby, was visiting his son in another room until 8 p. m.

Previously, Fricke had told police he saw two small children playing in the hallway during his visit.

Accident Theory Discounted

Stark County Prosecutor D. Deane McLaughlin discounted the theory that the two babies might have been dropped accidentally, and revived a theory of murder, possibly by a maniacal killer. Police Chief Stanley W. Switter had considered the maniac theory, but later said his investigation had turned toward the possibility of an accident.

Lincke said that after the babies

BELIEVE FLOOD CREST REACHED

20,000 Homeless and 50,000 Acres Inundated as Relief Appears in Sight.

By The Associated Press

HANNIBAL, Mo., June 10 — Flood waters pouring into the Mississippi river, which already have made more than 20,000 homeless and have inundated nearly 50,000 acres of farm land, in eastern Missouri and west-central Illinois, appeared today to have reached a high point.

Rivermen and U. S. engineers expressed belief that only further rains would aggravate the situation, but they also said that several river towns in Illinois and Missouri still faced serious flood conditions, despite the promise of receding water.

U. S. Army engineers and the Cost Guard had every available worker on the job in the flood area and the American Red Cross had 50 staff workers and about 600 volunteers aiding the homeless.

Water Runs High

Water was eight to 10 feet deep in the village of Alexandria, Mo., near the Iowa line, the result of a levee break, and all residents have been evacuated.

In Hannibal, a city of 20,000, the water covered nine blocks of the town's main street. Four thousand residents of South Hannibal were partially isolated. No buses were operating and at least a dozen stores were flooded.

At Canton, Mo., 30 miles upstream, the river had reached a stage of 19.92 feet, an all time high. Although half of the town is under water and a third of the 2,200 residents are homeless, relief work was reported well in hand. No trains or buses are operating out of the town and only one highway is open.

Levee Breaks

A river land district levee, two miles north of Louisiana, broke yesterday, flooding 3,000 acres. Sixty families in Louisiana were evacuated.

At Quincy, Ill., where the Mississippi reached a record stage 23.6 feet, railroad yards on the waterfront were flooded, but the town itself, situated on a bluff, was not endangered. Several persons were forced to evacuate homes in south Quincy.

Rail traffic between St. Louis and Burlington, Ia., remained halted.

In central Missouri, additional thousands of acres of crop land were inundated as flood waters of the Grand and Chariton rivers joined the Missouri river. One levee broke above Boonville yesterday, flooding 5,000 acres of bottom land and others were expected to fail. Missouri highway patrol closed U. S. highway 40 at Boonville.

Storm Kills 2 In Nebraska, Iowa

By The Associated Press

OMAHA, June 10—A severe windstorm slashing northeastward across Nebraska into Iowa last night left two known dead, two injured and a trail of heavy property damage.

Accompanying the rains, unofficially reported as heavy as four inches in northend of northeastern Nebraska's Elkhorn river valley, raised fears of new flooding in an area which suffered extensive inundation only last week.

A 13-year-old boy was reported killed when a barn was blown over near St. Edward.

Near Akron, Ia., north of Sioux City, Hugh Smith was reported killed and his brother injured when a twister struck their farm.

An 85-mile an hour gale struck Sioux City, disrupting telephone and electric service and breaking the anemometer at the Sioux City weather bureau. Four planes broke loose from their moorings at the Sioux City air base.

"Protest" Coal Strike Spreads

20 Mines Down in "Unauthorized" Walkout Lobbying Against Labor Bil.

By The Associated Press

UNIONTOWN, Pa., June 10—Work stoppages among soft coal miners protesting labor legislation before congress spread to 20 mines employing 11,204 men today as AFL-United Mine Workers officials pondered their strategy in the idleness they termed "unauthorized."

The stoppages were scattered through the three counties that comprise the heart of an extremely rich southwestern Pennsylvania bituminous section—Fayette, Greene and Washington.

Two mines voted to resume work after being idle over the weekend. They were the Gates mine of the H. C. Frick Coke Co., employing 400, and the Kyle mine of the same company employing 600. They account for a combined daily production of 5,600 tons.

Among the closed mines was the world's largest, the famed Robena mine of the Frick company which employs 1,800 miners and has a normal daily production of 10,000 tons. Some of the other larger pits affected range from 2,000 tons to 7,000 tons in output.

Without exception, all of the larger mines are "captive" pits—those mines whose production goes to steel plants and never sees the open market.

The U. S. Steel Corp., one of the steel makers involved, reported it was losing 25,000 tons of coal daily, 5,000 tons short of the total used each 24 hours at the Clairton coking works, which supplies 80 per cent of the coke used by the company's Pittsburgh district plants.

President William Byrnes of UMW District 4 called the work stoppages "unauthorized" and added:

"All I know is the miners are protesting the (Hartley-Taft) labor bill."

He said his staff was "looking the situation over, to see how to act."

The Hartley-Taft bill, expected to reach President Truman's desk soon, would presumably outlaw any coal strike when the mines pass out of government control at the end of the month.

Negotiations between UMW President John L. Lewis and operators to replace the current government contract expire at midnight tonight.

OHIO HOUSE IN ACTION ON 3 LABOR BILLS

Senate Works on Completion of Local Government Aid Program.

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., June 10—The Ohio senate acted today to complete the administration's $30,000,000 annual local government aid program while the house tackled three bills to regulate labor.

The labor bills were brought out for a vote after house Republicans caucused last night in their only action as the session's final week of work got under way.

Ninety-one party members reportedly voted almost three to one in support of a measure by Rep. William R. Van Aken (R-Cuyahoga) to checkrein unions, and a proposal by Rep. Charles H. Veech (R-Putnam) to ban the "closed shop." Twenty-seven were listed as absent.

The caucus did not vote on a third bill to ban strikes by all public employes, including school teachers. Sponsored by Sen. David McPerguson (R-Guernsey), it already has passed the senate.

Voters Must Approve

The Veech resolution, in the form of a constitutional amendment requires final approval by voters.

The Van Aken measure would permit strikes only by a majority vote of unionists in secret ballot, limit picket lines to two persons, keep felons and Communists from holding union office, ban political contributions, require annual financial reports to the state and union members and allow suits for losses from secondary boycotts.

The local government program would increase sales tax distributions from $21,000,000 last year to $27,250,000 this year, and allow cities to tax amusement admissions after Oct. 1.

In 1948, counties would get $12,000,000 in sales taxes and $13,000,000 from state collected levies on deposits and shares of financial institutions, which the state now keeps.

The senate shortly after midnight received from its finance committee the general appropriations bill carrying about $546,500,000 for the biennium, including $25,000,000 as a "down payment" for veterans' bonuses.

Calls for Bonus "Starter"

The measure as approved by the house called for spending $585,000,000 in 1947-48, including $75,000,000 as a bonus "starter."

After deleting $50,000,000 for bonuses, the senate committee restored about $11,000,000 cut out by the house.

Sums restored included $3,600,000 to pay costs of administering the workmen's compensation system, $2,800,000 to state universities, $2,500,000 for highway department salaries and $2,300,000 for maintenance in the division of aid for the aged. Bangs disease control funds were cut $100,000 to a total of $250,000, however.

The committee also recommend passage of a proposal by Sen. E. E. Addison (R-Franklin) to increase pay of appointive state official with statutory terms 33 1-3 per cent, except a score of those designated for specific boosts.

The senate in night session voted 28 to 2 to permit cities of more than 50,000 population to condemn blighted areas for redevelopment by private operators.

Zoning Measure Passes

A rural zoning measure, already approved by the house, passed the senate. The measure would permit county commissioners to trustees to zone unincorporated areas, subject to a

2 Youths Drown West of Galion

Special to The Star

GALION, June 10—Francis Matthews, 17, of Blooming Grove and Maurice Kuhn, 18, grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Asa E. Finney of near Blooming Grove drowned in Whetstone creek near the Clarence Stump farm west of Galion last night.

Apparently no one witnessed the drownings, and the bodies were not recovered until about 11 a. m. today.

The two youths left the Max Levant junk yard in Galion, where Matthews had been working yesterday afternoon, with the intention of going swimming. Their automobile containing their clothes was found parked near a bridge on the New Winchester road.

The bodies were found after the Galion fire department had been summoned with a boat and grappling hooks. The Matthews boy's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Elbert Matthews, who operate a store at Blooming Grove, a Morrow county village a few miles southeast of Galion, became alarmed this morning when they discovered that Francis had not returned home. Mrs. Matthews called Grace Thomas, secretary of the Galion Auto club, who in turn called Crawford County Sheriff Ralph Schreck. Mrs. Matthews said her son was a good swimmer, but that the Kuhn boy did not know how to swim.

Circumstances Unknown

Circumstances causing the deaths was unknown at noon today. Water in Whetstone creek, which had risen earlier this week was back to normal yesterday, according to nearby residents. The place where the boys had apparently entered the stream was frequented by fishermen and swimmers, Clarence Stump, a nearby farmer, said. The Stumps said they were running a garden tractor last night about the time it is thought the two youths arrived at the stream, and would have been unable to hear calls for help.

Leave Late In Afternoon

Max Levant, junk yard operator, said Matthews had come to the yard Monday morning and that he had been instructing him during the day. About 4:45 p. m., Levant said, Kuhn called for Matthews in the automobile, and Matthews had told Levant's son that the two intended to go swimming. Levant was away from the yard when the pair left.

A number of persons aided in the search for the bodies this morning.

ADDRESS SET FOR TOMORROW

Dominion Officials Greet President; Parliament To Hear Speech.

By The Associated Press

ABOARD PRESIDENT TRUMAN'S SPECIAL TRAIN ENROUTE TO OTTAWA, June 10—President Truman crossed the northern border today on his good will mission to Canada.

L. S. St. Laurent, secretary of state for external affairs, and other notables, extended an official welcome as the United States Chief Executive arrived at Rouses Point, N. Y., at 10:20 a. m., aboard an 11-car special train.

St. Laurent was accompanied by Ray Atherton, United States ambassador; W. H. Measures, chief of protocol for Canada; and three honorary aides-de-camp to the President, Commodore F. L. Houghton of the Royal Canadian Navy; Brig. S. F. Clark of the Canadian Army and Air Commodore D. M. Smith of the Royal Canadian Air Force. They boarded the train for the trip on to Ottawa.

Welcome Truman

The Governor General and Lady Alexander and Prime Minister W. L. Mac Kenzie King head the welcoming party for President Truman in Ottawa.

He took his wife and daughter along for a three-day visit in Ottawa where he will address the Canadian parliament at 10:45 a. m. tomorrow.

The United States Chief Executive was in the best of spirits as he boarded this 11-car special train in Washington last night.

He left until after his return to Washington Friday a decision on a four-billion dollar tax reduction and new curbs for labor unions. Bills embodying these changes were sent up to the White House by a Republican-controlled congress last week.

Example of Harmony

He concentrated, instead, on plans to set another example to the world of how the peoples of the western hemisphere live together in peace and harmony, negotiating differences if any arise.

The flight of the President to Mexico in March set a pattern for this visit to the northern neighbor of the United States.

Mr. Truman hopes to work in a visit to South America before the end of the year.

REDS SET TO PURGE RIVALS

Draw Lists of Hungarians Who "Collaborated" with Germans.

By The Associated Press

LONDON, June 10—Dispatches from Budapest suggested today that the Communist-dominated Hungarian government was widening its purge against dissident elements on several fronts.

The Communist newspaper Szabadsag said the "resistance certificates" of nearly 200 persons, including government and church officials, would be reviewed by a special committee under the prime ministers' office.

Among those facing loss of these certificates—which indicate that the holders opposed the Germans during the war—were Dezso Sulyok, head of the Freedom party whose newspaper recently was banned; assembly speaker Bela Varga, a member of the Smallholders party; and Josef Cardinal Mindszenty, Roman Catholic primate of Hungary.

Others facing possible loss of their lands of the committee should decide they did not work against the Nazis, Uzabadsag said, were Lajos Shvoy, Catholic bishop of Szekesfehervar; Count Geza Teleki, former minister of education; and Bela Pedanyi-Gulyas, head of the Smallholder party's political committee.

At the same time, the Hungarian

STRIVE TO AVERT AUTO BODY STRIKE

By The Associated Press

DETROIT, June 10—Negotiators made a final effort today to stave off a strike at eight plants of the Briggs Manufacturing Co. which if prolonged would shut down roughly one-sixth of the entire automobile industry.

With the backing of the CIO United Auto Workers' executive board, union officials have threatened to call 20,000 Briggs workers off their jobs at 10 a. m. Wednesday unless their contract demands are met by then.

Such a walkout would have an almost immediate effect on car production as the Chrysler Corp. and the Packard Motor Car Co. are dependent on auto bodies made in six of seven Detroit area Briggs plants and one in Evansville, Ind.

Union demands include retroactivity of a proposal 15-cent hourly wage increase equivalent to May 26; coverage of several hundred salaried and engineering workers under the contract, maintenance of present grievance procedure and a wage reopening clause.

The company contends its contract offer was equal to or better than some accepted from other auto firms with which Briggs competes.

The executive board authorization of a Briggs strike, given at Chicago yesterday, came as the Ford Motor Co. closed two departments in its big Dearborn Rouge plant and threatened to shut down others.

Ford Vice President D. S. Harder said the action was taken "because of slowdown and sabotage of equipment on the body line."

OHIO LIQUOR CONTROL BOARD CHIEF DIES

By The Associated Press

CINCINNATI, June 10 — William F. Hess, chairman of the Ohio board of liquor control, died at 8:30 a. m. today of a heart ailment. He would have been 75 years old June 17.

He was named a member of the liquor board in 1939 by Gov. John W. Bricker and was named its chairman early this year by Gov. Thomas J. Herbert.

Hess had been in poor health for some time but was not confined to his bed until about two weeks ago. His condition grew steadily worse reaching the critical stage last Wednesday when his son, Rep. William E. Hess, Republican congressman for this district, was called home from Washington.

The elder Hess, a lifelong resident of Cincinnati, was active in Republican party activities since early manhood. He was Hamilton county auditor for eight years, being elected in 1922 and 1926 and later served as a member of the Cincinnati board of education. He also was a former member of the county Republican executive committee.

For many years he was secretary of both the Ohio Brewers' association and the Cincinnati Brewers' board of trade, and in behalf of these organizations made several trips to Washington to oppose adoption of the 18th amendment and the Volstead act. Later, he was active in the campaign for repeal of prohibition.

Gold Star Mothers Honored In Legion Auxiliary Program

In keeping with an annual custom members of the Women's Auxiliary to Bird-McGinnis Post No. 162 honored the Gold Star mothers of Marion city and county in a combined program and social meeting last night at the Legion Dugout. Here for the occasion was Mrs. Robert Gray of Dayton, the department president of the Ohio Legion Auxiliary. Mrs. Curtis Laubner, president of the auxiliary, presided, and the program hour was in charge of Mrs. Jewel Ralston. The social hour was in the Dugout diningroom.

In her talk Mrs. Gray paid a glowing tribute to the Gold Star mothers and the spirit in which they carry on in the interest of their country's welfare and that of patriotic organizations. "There is no finer woman than the one who has given a son to the nation," she said.

"They are the ones," she continued, "who keep on working for the community and in most recent years, it was not the Gold Star mothers who cried when we had to do without things, it was we who had given nothing."

Inspiration for Others

"In these days of 'peace turmoil,' Mrs. Gray said, "it would be well for us and our legislators to reflect on the tolerance and loyalty of Gold Star mothers, and perhaps we would have a different feeling toward each other."

Mrs. Gray complimented the officers on their ritualistic work and the way the meeting was conducted, and included in her talk some of the work and objectives of the organization.

The Post Auxiliary's tribute to the Gold Star Mothers was given by Mrs. W. E. Orcutt and for the musical part of the program Mrs. Curtis Laubner, accompanied by Mrs. William Ackerman Jr., sang "The Lord's Prayer." 2 MEN MISSING IN LAKE ERIE SINKING

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, June 10—Two men were missing but a third was rescued today after a 17-foot sailboat capsized in Lake Erie.

Nick Lupson Jr., 20, who told a Coast Guard rescue crew that he clung to the overturned boat for 11 hours, said the boat's owner, William Varga, 22, tried to swim for shore and was not seen again. Andrew Kris, 25, "hung on for a while and then slipped off," said Lupson.

Lupson was found 14 miles north of the mouth of Rocky river. The sailboat, named "Varga Girl," capsized about 9 p. m. last night in a stiff wind.

"Andy kept complaining of his flak wounds and how tired he was getting. Then when I turned to get a better grip, he wasn't there when I turned around toward him again," said the rescued man.

Kris was wounded while serving with the 15th Air Force in Italy. Varga served with the Navy and Lupson with the Marines. All were Clevelanders, and Kris was attending Ohio State university.

Dillon Dam Fight Held Key For Foes of Other Flood Projects

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, June 10—Dillon Dam in Ohio has been suggested as a possible pattern for action on proposals to kill some flood control and navigation projects.

The Ohio job is the target of a doublebarreled attack by Rep. McGregor (R-Ohio).

He has introduced a bill to abandon it. This will be considered by a house public works subcommittee late this month.

McGregor asked a house appropriations subcommittee yesterday to reject an army engineers' request for $3,400,000 for construction of the flood control dam, located in Licking and Muskingum counties, Ohio.

Backs Up Proposal

Chairman Dondero (R-Mich) of the public works committee backed up McGregor's contentions that construction money should be withheld at least until after the hearings on the bill to discard the project.

Leaving the appropriations hearing, Dondero said to McGregor.

"This project may be the pilot for action on others."

Rep. Wilson (R-Ind), public works subcommittee chairman joined with Dondero and McGregor in opposing a Dillon dam appropriation this year.

McGregor presented his arguments a day after Rep. Griffiths (R-Ohio) urged approval of the engineers' request. He said the dam is needed for flood control and water conservation.

Estimated to cost $4,400,000 when it was authorized several years ago, Dillon dam would cost $15,000,000 or $20,000,000 on the basis of current prices, McGregor testified. Part of the money would be used for the purchase of rich farm land in the area.

Saying that construction would consume large quantities of steel and lumber needed for housing and other things, McGregor urged the subcommittee to "stop this waste of money immediately rather than spend 15 or 20 million dollars on a project which is not needed for flood control."

"Costs Too High"

"Certainly, we should not continue to appropriate for construction of this project during the period of the highest construction costs in history," McGregor added.

"Private business is constructing only what is absolutely necessary because of high costs and the critical building material period, and I sincerely urge the federal government to follow the same policy."

"The engineers' own figures will justify the statement that the benefits do not merit this expenditure for Dillon dam," McGregor added.

While nearly $2,000,000 has been appropriated for the dam, McGregor said that actual construction has not started.

"Only a portion of the railroad relocation is completed," he said. "The construction of this dam makes it necessary to relocate 19 miles of railroad; to move two villages; to change centralized school districts, and to relocate many miles of state highways."

U.S. COURT REVERSES HARDIN CO. RULING

By The Associated Press

TOLEDO, O., June 10 — The sixth district court of appeals yesterday reversed a Hardin county common pleas court ruling on a claim against the estate of the late Judge Phil M. Crow of the third district court of appeals, Lima, O., and decided the case was within the jurisdiction of the Hardin county tribunal.

The suit was brought by creditors of the defunct Peoples Commercial bank, Bellefontaine, O., who originally filed a claim for $11,800 against Judge Crow, stockholder in the bank.

Judge Crow, claiming he was insolvent, paid only $6,000 of the claim in 1936, the suit said. The creditors brought suit for the remaining $5,800, plus interest, after learning in March, 1945, shortly after Judge Crow's death, that he left an estate of $500,000, according to their petition.

Executors of the estate contended the court no longer could hear the case because of the nine intevening years, and the Hardin county court upheld that defense.

Cigaret Vendor Total Less Than '46 Figure

Sale of licenses to vendors of cigarets in the county is behind the count of last year, figures in the office of the county auditor show. Deadline for obtaining a license was May 26. To date 277 licenses have been issued to persons selling cigarets in comparison with 314 last year. Sale of cigarets without a new license subjects the vendor to loss of his license if apprehended by an inspector, according to the law. The price of a license is the same whether purchased before or after deadline.

VICTIM BURIED AS POLICE PROBE DEATH

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., June 10—Funeral services were arranged at Lancaster, O., today for Miss Mabel Hoffman, 20, as police here continued investigation of her death which, Coroner John B. Gravis said, followed an abortion operation.

Capt. Glenn L. Hoffman, head of the detective bureau, said that Alfred A. Taylor, 67-year-old chiropractor, was questioned by homicide detectives yesterday "about whether or not he was contacted by a companion of the dead girl to make arrangements to perform an illegal abortion."

Taylor is now free under $5,000 bond pending an appeal to the second district court of appeals of a recent conviction of an illegal abortion charge.

Police announced that Miss Speheth Izetta Simpson, 56, of Greenville, who had been held as a material witness, was released yesterday afternoon.

Miss Simpson and Mrs. Ruth Hammond, 29, of Mt. Vernon, sister of the dead girl, were held by police following discovery of the girl's body in a Columbus hotel room Friday. Mrs. Hammond was released Saturday.

Ashcan Looms for Congress' Work—Truman's Compliments

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON, June 10—A big congress' work for 1947 end in the ashcan.

Congress has put a lot of its and effort this year into a cut income taxes and a bill restrict labor unions.

Truman has opposed them. expected to veto the tax-cut he may veto veto will the bills for unless congress can get enough votes two-thirds—to them in-

James Marlow

There's small congress can override a ve- the tax bill. It can re- pass vetoed labor bill. So the outlook is:

No income tax cuts this year.

A new labor law.

Work On Bill Enormous

This will give some idea of the which went into the bills, both of which were rammed through by the Republicans.

In the house 33 bills, and in the senate 35 bills, to restrict labor unions were introduced. They went to house and senate committees.

It was the job of these committees to come up with a single bill after plenty of thought, examination and discussion.

The senate committees started hearings Jan. 23 and ended them March 13. House committee hearings started Feb. 5 and ended March 15.

Between them, the two committees heard 237 witnesses argue for and against restrictions and took a total of 6,287 pages of testimony.

Month Behind Doors

In addition, there was a total of about a month of closed-door committee sessions. Then the completed, single bills went to full house and senate.

The house debated three days and passed its bill April 17. The senate passed its bill after debating from April 23 through May 13.

Because the house and senate bills differed, a joint house-senate committee was created to work out a single, compromise bill.

This took more closed door sessions. A compromise was reached. And, finally, full house and senate approved the compromise bill.

Now take the tax-cut bill.

Tax experts, employed by congress, started last fall to figure out how income taxes might be cut. They got up tables, information, ideas.

After congress opened Jan. 3, about 20 tax-cut bills were introduced. The bills went to committees of house and senate.

They had about two weeks of hearings, heard about 15 witnesses, took about 500 pages of testimony.

All this was followed by several weeks of closed-door committee sessions.

The full house acted first, passing a tax-cut bill March 27 after three days of debate. The senate, debating several days, passed its bill May 28.

Since house and senate bills differed a bit, again a joint house-senate committee was set up.

It met several times, worked out a compromise and sent it to the full house and senate which okayed it.

This bill and the labor bill went to the White House. Mr. Truman must act on the tax bill by Monday and on the labor bill by June 20.

Prospect Couple Wed 50 Years Honored

Mr. and Mrs. G. T. Dodrill of east of Prospect celebrated their golden wedding anniversary Sunday with a family dinner at noon served to 23 guests. Rev. and Mrs. Paul E. Dobberstein of St. Paul Lutheran church at Prospect were also present for the dinner. The dinner and afternoon celebration were held at the home of a son, Lawrence Dodrill of west of Prospect.

The table was centered with an orange cake and decorated with yellow roses and lighted yellow tapers. Table appointments carried out the color scheme in keeping with the golden anniversary.

During the open house hours in the afternoon the rooms were filled with bouquets of yellow roses, snapdragons, carnations and lilies. Mrs. Dodrill wore a corsage of yellow snapdragons. Some 75 friends called during the afternoon to offer congratulations.

Mr. Dodrill, 71, is a retired farmer and now serves as a salesman for a nursery firm and also delivers mail from the depot at Prospect to the postoffice. Mrs. Dodrill is 73.

The couple have two sons, Lawrence of near Prospect, where the dinner was held; Walter of Marion, a daughter, Mrs. Paul Gast of Prospect, seven grandchildren and one great grandchild.

Plane Missing In Marion Area But No One's Aboard

A plane has been reported missing over eastern Marion county. The craft was last seen over Baker airport on Route 98 east of Marion. No lives are in danger, however, for the ship was a model with six-foot wing span owned by Hugh Black of Bucyrus. Mr. Black, with a group of friends from Bucyrus, was flying the model Sunday night when it hit a spiral air current known as a "thermal" in aviation jargon. The model circles higher and higher until it rose out of sight, according to Mr. Black. A search of the area conducted Sunday evening before nightfall failed to disclose whereabouts of the model.

The model was powered with a gasoline engine. Mr. Black said the engine shut off as the plane started to spiral, and that wind currents were entirely responsible for carrying it away. The plane is painted red and bears the name "Playboy Senior." Mr. Black built the model himself about six years ago, and has entered it in model contests at Columbus. Monetary value of the plane is about $25, excluding labor.

O. Runser, Guy Deming and O. J. Hogan were selected as delegates to the State convention to be held at Dayton June 20, 21 and 22.

MARSHALL APPROVES UNITED EUROPE PLAN

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, June 10—Secretary of State Marshall has expressed general approval of a resolution to put congress on record as favoring creation of a United States of Europe within the framework of the United Nations.

"Of course the United States wants a Europe which is not divided against itself, a Europe which is better than it replaces," Marshall said. "Only as we can inspire hope of that can we expect men to endure what must be endured and make the great efforts which must be made if wars are to be avoided and civilization is to survive in Europe.

"But we should make clear that it is not our purpose to impose upon the peoples of Europe any particular form of political or economic association. The future organization of Europe must be determined by the peoples of Europe."

Marshall wrote Chairman Vandenberg (R-Mich) of the senate foreign relations committee, in response to a request for his views on the resolution sponsored by Senators Fulbright (D-Ark) and Thomas (D-Utah).

A similar resolution has been introduced in the house by Rep. Boggs (D-La).

The Fulbright - Thomas - Boggs proposal, if adopted by the senate and house, would constitute simply an expression of congressional opinion. Such a resolution would not go to President Truman for his signature and, consequently, would not have the force of law.

3 from County In O.W.U. Honor List

Three Marion county students were graduated with honors from Ohio Wesleyan university at Delaware when commencement exercises were held Monday. Receiving honors in the political science department were Harold F. Fralich of 387 Blaine avenue and Obal Gearhiser of 877 Bellefontaine avenue. John Knaur of La Rue also graduated with honors. Other honor graduates from this area were William Diem, Doris Hunter and Kenenth Smith of Delaware.

Norman Makin, Australian ambassador to the United States, was commencement speaker. He used the life of Abraham Lincoln to show how education is a continuing process in the preparation for complete living.

MARKET BOXED INTO NARROW OPERATIONS

NEW YORK, June 10—The stock market operated within a narrow range again today.

Several industrial issues reduced or eliminated early declines but the pace of trading remained extremely slow.

Concern over earnings prospects in the face of disruptions attending coal wage negotiations, foreign unsettlement and tendency to wait for presidential action on tax and labor legislation were credited with inspiring caution by customers.

Lower at times were American Telephone, U. S. Steel, International Paper, Texas Pacific Land Trust, American Can, Public Service of N. J., Goodrich, Dow Chemical, Douglas Aircraft and International Nickel. Displaying signs of resistance were Standard Oil (N.J.), Texas Co., Sears Roebuck, International Harvester, Air Reduction, Du Pont and Johns-Manville.

Man, Woman Held As Theft Suspects

An 18-year-old woman and a 23-year-old man, both of Marion, were arrested yesterday and police said they will be charged with grand larceny in connection with the alleged theft of a wallet containing $96.

According to police the man took a wallet which was dropped by Harry Claypool, attendant of the Power Oil company filling station on West Center street and gave it to the woman. Money in the wallet was property of the Power Oil company and was used by Claypool in his duties. He is reported to have dropped it on the driveway of the station.

The man, picked up for questioning, denied having a part in the theft. The woman was questioned soon afterwards and, according to police, said she had received the wallet from the man and showed them where she had hidden it, police said, in a clump of burdock along an alley which runs off of North Main street.

Police said charges will be brought against them tomorrow morning, since there was no session of municipal court this morning.

"CREATIVE COURAGE" YOUTH RALLY TOPIC

Rev. Sutherland Urges Stand for Christianity.

"Creative Courage" was the sermon subject of Rev. James Sutherland of Akron at the "Christ for Youth" rally service in Calvary Evangelical United Brethren church last night. Members of the young people's choir participated, and Rev. Dewey Long of Wagram, song leader, sang a solo, "My Sins are Gone." Edwin Endicott of Marion, a student at Otterbein college, Westerville, offered prayer. Another service of the special meetings sponsored by the Youth Fellowship of the church will be held tonight at 8.

Last night, Rev. Sutherland's Scripture lesson was from the first chapter of the book of Philippians. Part of his message follows: "When you young people find yourselves in the position where you have to stand out for yourselves, let the folks know where you stand in the Christian life. That demands courage. It takes courage to do the impossible thing.

"When we talk about courage we are not talking about physical strength. We are rather talking about that kind of courage which calls for spiritual endeavor. If you and I have that kind of courage that makes us sturdy and steady in life, we will want others to have it.

"Fear is one of the most aggressive enemies of our souls. When one has fear in his life he finds himself weakened. The fears that we are confronted with today are the fear about tomorrow, fear about what people say about us, fear of speaking a word for our Lord where we work. I am afraid that some of us are no longer fearful of the consequences of wrongdoing. When we are afraid to witness for our Lord we lose our spiritual efficiency."

Penicillin Powder May Ward Off Tooth Decay

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, June 10—Tooth powder blended with a dash of Penicillin may help ward off tooth decay, two research dentists at Western Reserve university announced today.

This conclusion — advanced tentatively since their experiment is still going on—is contained in a preliminary report by Dr. Thomas J. Hill and Dr. Albert H. Kniesner.

Basing their findings on an experiment on 252 boys, the professors told the WRU school of dentistry's annual Alumni association meeting yesterday that the drug apparently tended to reduce decay-producing germ of the mouth.

YOUR HEALTH

By HERMAN BUNDESEN, M.D.

Fibrositis

The muscles are covered and bound together by fibrous tissues known as fascia and attached to the bones by similar structures called tendons.

Sometimes, especially after exposure to cold, these fibrous tissues may become extremely painful, causing the condition known as fibrositis. Since the affected tissues are especially numerous around the joints, such an attack is quite likely to be mistaken for rheumatism.

While we do not know the exact cause of fibrositis, we are sure that cold, sudden chilling, dampness, and changes in the weather can act as the trigger which sets off an attack. Unrecognized injuries may act in the same way. Other possible causes are infections elsewhere in the body, as in the teeth, tonsils or sinuses.

According to Dr. William Tegner of London, England, it has also been suggested that fatty tissue in or under fibrous tissue may in some cases become edematous, that is, fluids may collect in the fats. This causes pressure and may lead to fibrositis.

Fibrositis occurs particularly in the lower part of the back, in the buttocks, around the shoulders and the neck. Acute fibrositis comes on suddenly, without any warning symptoms, sometimes after exposure to cold, damp or temperature changes. It may also follow strain and exertion. Pain in the affected area may start on movement, and is relieved by rest and warmth.

In some cases it may be so severe as to incapacitate the patient. The muscles may be tense or contracted. Whole areas of muscles may be very painful when pressed on.

As a general rule, it is not difficult to make diagnosis of acute fibrositis. However, the condition may be chronic, that is, long continued. In such instances, the pain is less severe but more persistent than in the acute disorder. It is also relieved by rest and warmth, but when the patient gets up and moves about after resting, the pain may be worse than before. The patient also complains of pain and stiffness in getting up in the morning or after resting in a chair. Gradually after more activity, the pain disappears and does not return so long as he moves about.

In treating acute fibrositis, rest, heat, and the giving of pain-relieving drugs are all helpful. Massage particularly may hasten the recovery. Recently the use of injection of pain-relieving preparations or local anaesthetic directly into the affected areas has been found of value.

In chronic fibrositis, heat, massage and injections also are helpful. An effort should be made to find and eliminate infection in the teeth, tonsils, sinuses and elsewhere in the body.

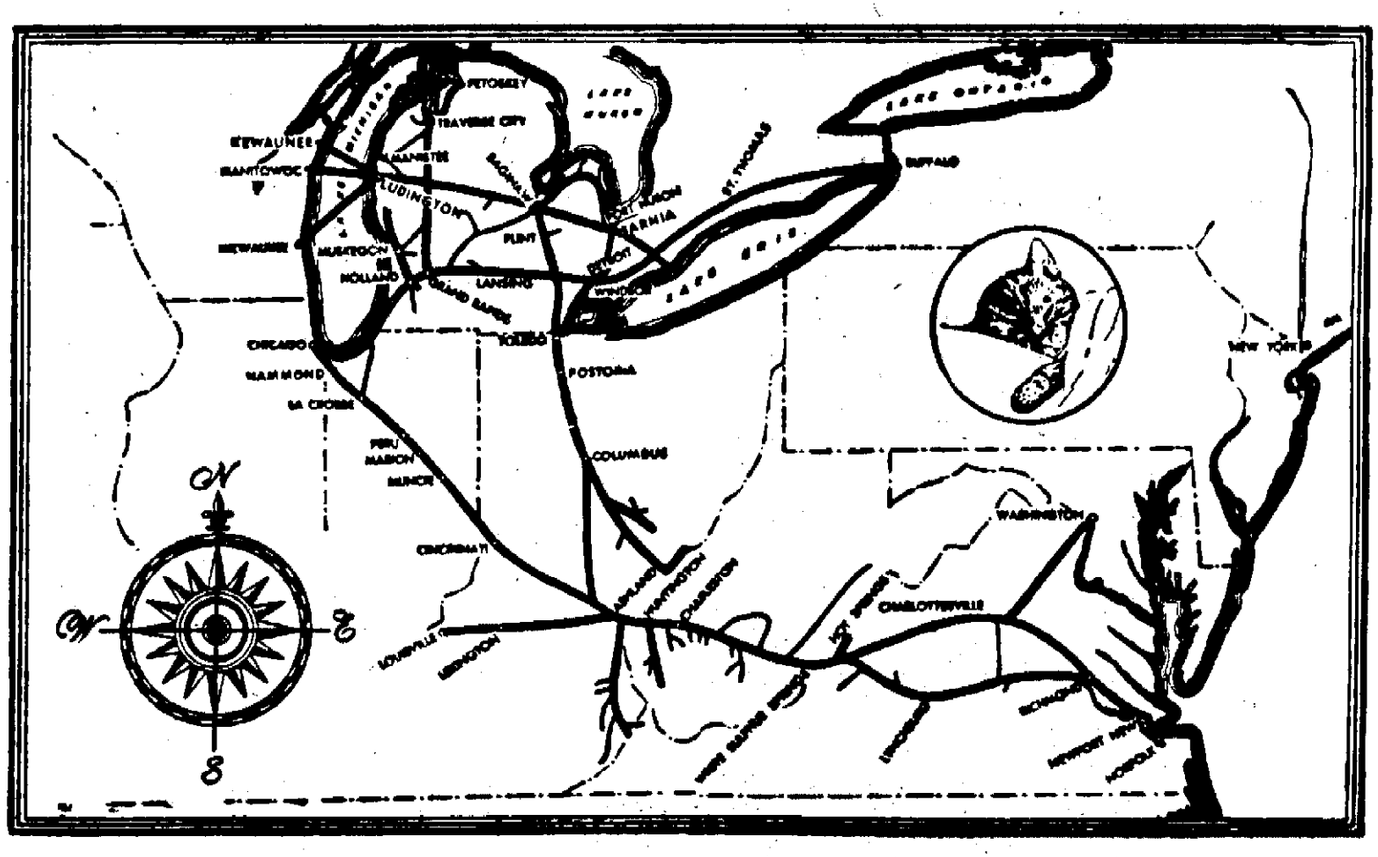
NOW TWO GREAT RAILROADS UNITE TO FORM "THE GREATER C&O"



On June 6th the Pere Marquette Merged with the Chesapeake & Ohio. Shippers and Travelers now have a New, Unified Service between the Great Lakes and the Mid-Atlantic Coast.

For years it has been apparent that a combination of these two railroads is a common-sense proposition. One serves the nation's greatest coal-producing area, the other reaches some of the greatest coal-consuming sections.

A Great Network . . . Vital traffic lines of the Pere Marquette now join those of the C&O. The former is a natural extension of the great C&O system into Michigan, with direct service into Canada. Fast freight and passenger ferries across Lake Michigan serve the state of Wisconsin.

Improved Passenger Service . . . Both railroads have earned the appreciation of the traveling public for their pioneering of basic improvements in passenger service. Revolutionary new equipment, "Pay-As-You-Go" and Credit Card travel, "No Tipping," Hotel Accommodation service — these are some of the latest but not the last of C&O's popular innovations. Now the best features of both roads are combined to bring still further improvements in rail-riding comfort and convenience.

Shippers' Problems Simplified . . . The merger provides direct line communication for the exchange of the great industrial, agricultural and mineral output of the new "Pere Marquette District" of the C&O Railway, with the vast coal, agricultural and manufacturing wealth of its "Chesapeake District." And both of these rich areas will have direct access over the C&O to foreign trade, through the modern port at Newport News.

Broader Opportunities for Employees This union of two major rail arteries means further security for the men and women who helped to develop these lines and who make them run. Diversified traffic, mutually beneficial to both sections, will result in broader opportunities for employees all down the line.

Stockholders Agree . . . The many stockholders of both railroads now clearly the opportunity to improve both service and earnings by linking the 3,100-mile C&O with the area served by the 1,500-mile Pere Marquette.

The greater Chesapeake & Ohio is a major move toward closer communication, better service and increased prosperity.

TUESDAY, JUNE 10, 1947

To the Class of '47

IT'S PRESUMPTUOUS to add anything to what this year's commencement orators have said. They have covered the challenge to youth from A to Z. But here goes—

The orators have neglected a thing called perspective. They have got down to brass tacks on what atomic destruction is going to do if it isn't stopped, but they have failed to mention that things looked bad a few thousand years back when the stone hatchet was developed—the Dark Ages.

Atomic destruction and everything else available for mass murder merely have sharpened the challenge to youth. In the class of '47 there are a good many graduates mourning comrades killed by land mines, shrapnel and bullets—killed just as dead as if it had been by an atomic bomb.

The point is that atomic destruction is not the original threat of wholesale destruction, contrary to what seems to be the theme of most viewings-with-alarm these days. It's only a refinement of a threat that has hung over mankind since the beginning of its time on earth—the threat of destruction by its own hand.

It would be a great tragedy if a particularly dramatic kind of weapon were to destroy perspective. Mankind's problem isn't the Bomb. Mankind's problem—the challenge to youth—is the perversity of mankind that causes men to kill one another. There was no Bomb in 1937. But there were graduating classes that year, as there were in 1927 and 1917—and they too faced a challenge.

Who Says So?

NOT SINCE the power lobby showered congress with telegrams and mail more than 10 years ago has there been such a demonstration as labor unionists are staging to stop labor reform legislation.

This does not question their right to petition congress. It does not question their right to stir public opinion, even to the extent of having the mayor of New York City go on the air with a name-calling speech.

It does question the propriety, or rather the wisdom, of making the pending legislation seem to be some sort of Armageddon for labor, because it isn't. It is no more Armageddon for legitimate unionism than the issue over abuses by public utilities was Armageddon for the power industry.

Extremists are always ready and eager to misrepresent the moderates in this country. There must be a great many members of unions wondering what all the excitement's about—why so much of their money is being spent to block a legislative proposal that is intended only to keep union leadership from hanging itself in too much rope.

Is the uproar to save labor unionism as one of the pillers of the American republic, or is it to save certain labor unionists who have been using the pillar for their own selfish purposes?

Who's on First?

A JAPANESE student won an oratorical contest by taking as his subject "Two Strikes and Three Balls." The war ended, he said, with two strikes on Japan but it has been given three balls in the form of assistance from the United States.

Baseball's a handy game. The state of the world can be explained in baseball terms. For instance: Great Britain is in a batting slump but should snap out of it. Hungary has just been sold down the river on waivers. Greece isn't breaking even financially and we are financing a popcorn concession under the grandstand. Spain wants a league franchise but hasn't posted the necessary bond. Yugoslavia, Bulgaria and Romania are farm clubs of Russia.

Russia is a dead-left field hitter and should be played accordingly. India is going down to second on Britain's sacrifice. As for us, we're supplying the gloves, balls and bats for more than half the teams in the league.

They Can Always Say No

FOR THE NEXT year, potential candidates for the presidential nomination will answer questions as to their intentions with enigmatic statements. They will fend, parry, duck and dodge. They will hem and haw, sidestep and back-pedal. They will deny they are candidates but, when asked if they would accept if drafted, they'll leave an escape loophole.

The classic enigmatic statement was Calvin Coolidge's "I do not choose to run." It seems straightforward enough, but it was dissected, parsed and repeated with varied intonation. The idiomatic New England use of the word "choose" was explored with a view to uncovering hidden implications.

The only unequivocal statement possible in the circumstances is that of William Tecumseh Sherman, who said, "I will not run if nominated and will not serve if elected." No nuances of meaning there. No idioms possible of varied interpretation. And it's available for any public figure who wants his name withdrawn from consideration.

War on the Labor Bill

By RAYMOND MOLEY

Propaganda Assumes Huge Proportions.

WHEN the holding company bill was going through congress, in 1935, New Dealers had a lot to say about the efforts of the companies to prevent its passage. They denounced the flocks of telegrams, the paid advertisements and the power lobby. And they derided the whole opposition, saying that such obvious use of money and misrepresentation would prejudice congress against the companies.

We wonder what they now say of the frantic efforts of labor leaders to kill the Taft-Hartley bill. It was reported, two weeks ago, in the New Republic that $1,500,000 had been set aside for this campaign, and that between $300,000 and $400,000 of this was for radio. The continuous radio barrage, moreover, is not costing what would have to be paid by mere capitalists.

Cut Price Help

For thousands of dollars in talent are being contributed by "soap opera queens and lowly continuity writers, famous playwrights and successful musicians and composers of jingles and big-time theatrical press agents . . . .Writers who would not touch a script for less than $500 are doing the commercials for $25." And so on.

Slogans, emotional appeals, stunts and occasional serious arguments are being pumped into the ears of the listening public. And constant exhortations are broadcast to write to congressmen and the President to kill the fiendish attack on the workingman.

Some of the argument is raw demagoguery. The usually calm and reasonable mayor William O'Dwyer was induced to give a radio harangue in which he called the new bill a "stab in the back of our free labor movement" and said "This law gives positive aid and comfort to the totalitarians."

Aimed at Excesses

The bill is neither a stab nor nor is it aimed at the back of labor. It is an effort to curb the excesses of the leaders of the movement. They were invited to help in a constructive effort to bring laws up to date. They refused to help in any way. And so the Taft committee was compelled to work alone.

Nor was the bill, as O'Dwyer so erroneously said, largely written by the National Association of Manufacturers. Nor does it increase the regulatory power of government. It reduces the part government has been playing in collective bargaining under the Wagner act.

Such exaggerations might be ascribed to ignorance, if they came from radio announcers or stage comics. But a man of O'Dwyer's experience must know that he did not describe the bill.

There was much to criticize in the opposition to early New Deal legislation. It was costly and it contained plenty of misrepresentation. But it never reached the degree of hokum that the campaign against the labor bill has assumed.

Source of Funds

There was loud denunciation of corporations in 1936 for spending stockholders' money in propaganda. But in the present instance, the funds of unions are presumably being expended by the officers. And the rank-and-file membership are, in reality, the stockholders. Surely they are the ones who contributed the money to the union funds.

This attack on the bill must surely impress thousands of sincere and thoughtful union members and their friends as neither wise nor sincere. It must appear as it is—a frantic effort of union leaders to hold a monopoly of power, to be free to use that power without restraint. It is well to remember that the most vital aspects of the bill are provisions which permit dues-paying members to control their officers. That is democracy, not slavery.

Pallbearing, Newest Profession

Professional pallbearers are now available in Chicago.

There's something new under the sun: Mourners for hire . . . Bewailing while you wait.

This is a long-needed service, in addition to providing suitable work for unemployed football coaches.

The services of professional pallbearers should be much in demand, not only by citizens with a shortage of friends, but also by actors who wish to insure that their's is no amateurish exit.

Incidentally, while professional pallbearing is doubtlessly new, every community has its old reliables who, because of their constant availability, have long since won the status of semi-pros.

Still, professional pallbearing offers unlimited opportunity to the young man with a serious look and a pair of white gloves.

The surrounding may not be so pleasant, but you spend a lot of time in the open. In fact, there can be no more suitable occupation for those who are bored with life.

School Pupils Want Jobs

More Than Million Reported Seeking Vacation Work.

By JANE EADS
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON—More than a million school children, between 14 and 17 years of age, will be seeking vacation-time jobs within the next few weeks, the U. S. Department of Labor estimates.

Jobs for young people won't be as easy to find as they were a year ago. Employers this year can be more choosy with many veterans looking for work. And they tend to prefer more mature workers.

Nevertheless, there'll be jobs for youngsters on farms where seasonable labor is needed. Also, during summer months, many employers in city stores and service establishments seek substitutes for regular employes on vacation.

Experience Helpful

Miss Beatrice McConnell, head of the Child Labor and Youth Employment branch, U. S. Department of Labor, believes a vacation job may be a valuable experience for young people above the legal age for employment.

But, unless they have finished high school, she warns, they should plan on going back to school in the fall.

Finding the right job and knowing the ropes on the job is quite a problem for most young people, she says. Tramping the streets and looking for "help wanted" signs isn't all there is to it. They must be wise job hunters.

She first advises them to get an interview with the school counselor, teacher, or principal, then go to the local state employment office and ask to see their counselor.

"Look for the kind of job that is in line with your interest and school experience, and that gives you a chance to get ahead, and that is OK under child labor laws," she says.

Offers Advice

"Be wise on the job," she repeats, posing the questions:

"Do you know how much pay you are entitled to? What deductions will be made? What are the safety rules? What are your rights under the Workmen's Compensation Act? Are you insured on the job? Do you know whether you are covered by Social Security?

"Do you know about unemployment compensation if you lose your job? Is there a union where you work? What does the union do for you?

If you don't know the answers, Miss McConnell suggests you ask your local state employment office, or your school counselor, write to your State Department of Labor, or the Child Labor and Youth Employment Branch of the Division of Labor Statistics, U. S. Department of Labor, here.

Don't Look Now

A NEW type of Russian underground movement is reported in the current issue of Science Illustrated—a mechanical mole that burrows through the ground much as a submarine travels through the water.

This "subversive" implement, it is reported, can make 30 feet of headway an hour through ground of ordinary compactness and has been tested successfully at a mine in the Ural mountains.

The designer, A. I. Trebelov, got his idea from watching live moles in action. He observed by X-ray how they made their tunnels, then designed a machine with similar characteristics.

His mechanical mole has a toothed drill on its rounded nose to loose the dirt ahead of it. The soil thus broken up is not removed, but pressed into the ground around it by a spiral conveyor revolving around the body of the machine.

Inside the "mole" is space for an operator, who communicates with the surface by telephone. He has oxygen tanks for his breathing, a gyro-compass to tell him directions and a leveling device to indicate his angle of travel. The Russians say it's a fine device for hunting mineral deposits and looking over subterranean situations of all kinds.

Don't look now, but what is that coming out of the ground—Communists in mechanical moles?

Red Cross Woolens Got Test in Germany

Why We Have Coal Strikes

Expert Blames Overproduction, Not John L. Lewis.

WITH the nation eyeing the looming threat of its third coal strike in 15 months, Stephen Raushenbush analyzes in the current issue of Harper's what is behind the threat. He reports that the real cause of coal strikes—whatever the public may think—is overproduction of coal, not John L. Lewis.

To keep this overproduction from hurting the market, Mr. Lewis as chief of United Mine Workers periodically gives the signal to leave the pits until the stockpiles dwindle and production drops roughly into line with demand. This is done with the knowledge of owners and operators and has become the accepted technique for creating artificial shortages of bituminous coal similar to those created in other industries by more subtle and less damaging means.

Well Informed

Raushenbush is qualified to speak about coal mining; he has spent his adult life as an investigator, student and administrator of mining problems. At present he is an economist for the Department of the Interior. He describes the coal miners' dilemma in these words:

"The miners are caught between two bad choices. Without strikes to protect their earnings and working conditions, they might be pushed back to the tragically miserable days of 1932. But one long dispute too many, and they might find themselves—along with the operators—following the anthracite industry downhill. The hard coal people of eastern Pennsylvania started down that road with the prolonged disputes of 1922 and 1925, which exasperated homeowners into a stampede to buy oil burners."

The author points out that the irony of coal strikes that upset the nation and drive coal consumers into converting equipment to burn other fuel is the fact they have been caused by the efficiency of the coal industry. Except for the war years, the industry has been capable of tremendous overproduction. Its workers and production experts are too efficient for their own economic good.

Hunt for Solution

Solution to the industry's problem of overproduction has been work stoppages that have scared consumers into converting to other fuels. The number of miners employed has been decreasing steadily for years, but not rapidly enough to make up for the industry's rising efficiency.

By spending 30,000,000 mandays on strikes between 1936 and 1945, according to Raushenbush, miners pushed up their annual take-home pay to an all-time high that cannot possibly be sustained unless the coal industry as a whole finds a way out of its dilemma.

Raushenbush sees hope only in these possibilities:

Technological changes in gas and gasoline production that will cause coal to become a prime source of these vital fuels.

Increased demand for fuel, raising the possibility that natural gas and petroleum will be used increasingly for purposes other than heating.

Long-term labor contracts and marketing procedures to stabilize the coal industry.

Cooperation with government, to preserve a key industry from the consequences of its own efficiency.

Balance Sheet Needed

The author is not among those who see John Lewis as an ogre bent on raising hob with the American way of life. "The public, which feels so strongly about Mr. Lewis," he explains, "is unaware that he is being called upon, by the nature of the case, to do far more than obtain good wages for his union members. He is also being forced repeatedly to redress the overcapacity-low-price unbalance of the industry. If coal were an agricultural surplus crop, we could see more clearly that his incidental role is that of a one-man substitute for wars, drouths insect plagues, acreage limitation laws and billion-dollar subsidies . . .

"The fact remains that it will be completely disastrous for the operators and miners to put their necks into the waiting wringer again—and the process would not help the country one bit. It would, therefore, seem about time for the disputing parties—and maybe the President's Council of Economic Advisers—to start casting up a long-term balance sheet for the coal industry."

Pension Facts

The Veterans Administration figures the last of World War II's veterans will be dropped from the books by the year 2030 and estimates it will be 1995 before the last World War I veteran passes on.

That's what the charts indicate, but lengthening life spans may show that the statisticians have underestimated. "Years ago we predicted the last Civil War veteran would be off our books by 1946," a V. A. official said, "but as it turned out we still have more than 100 still alive and kicking."

The agency's first study of veteran population trends has been hampered by the fact that the war isn't officially over yet.

Regarding pensioners, both veterans and their widows, here are the totals which were on the V. A. rolls as of Sept. 1, 1946: Mexican War 50; Indian wars 3,399; Civil War 21,027; Spanish-American War 193,616; World War I 636,240; World War II 1,830,052, and regular army 53,641.

As of 1946, a total of 2,608,510 veterans and their widows drew in pensions $1,177,978,120.

Cotton Corners

By TRUMAN TWILL

Dear Nephew: I'm trying to get hold o Charley Kettering, the General Motors idea ma who's retiring because he's 70.

I have a place for Charley in my new enter prise, to be known as Old Folks at Home. He the kind of raw material I'm looking for. Watch your local newspaper for further developments Meanwhile, I'll give you a sneak prevue.

I'm going to take Charley, Barney Baruch Herbie Hoover and a few other old boys in th prime of their lives and prove that this countr is nuts for swallowing all that hogwash abou retiring men when they reach a certain age. I'l sign up Connie Mack and Amos Stagg to set u a recreational program. Charley Hughes wil take care of our legal work. Nick Butler will b in charge of all mental improvement, Senato Capper will handle things at the Washington end, and Walt Damrosch will furnish soft music

These are only the department heads. I mysel will be in general charge of these cut-ups. Th work—the real work—will be handled by juveniles under 70. I am referring, of course, to the mere boys being shelved by concerns tha have been oversold on the notion a man is as ol as his age.

They are letting their best brains get awa from them and replacing them in many case with second-raters who haven't a thing on the ball, except the circumstance they were born after the turn of the century, instead of before. I ask you, what does that have to do with a man's ability?

I can name you half a dozen men of my own acquaintance who either have been retired, o are on the verge of retirement, because their birthdays happen to be so and so, yet are in the best years of their lives. I can name you—and you can name me—half a hundred men being kept on payrolls because they are the right age, yet went into mental retirement in the early years of Roosevelt II.

My plan is to take advantage of all this brain-power and experience being turned loose by big enterprises that have convinced themselves they must make room at the top for the younger men on their way up. I figure I can hire in these experienced hands pretty reasonable. Most of them don't need to worry about money anyway, having reached that point in maturity where they know money can't buy anything that's really valuable.

Don't ask me what my new enterprise will do I don't know. Maybe we'll make plastic door-knobs. Whatever we do we'll do it better than anybody else is doing it, because we'll have the benefit of experience. There won't be a green-horn on the place. No apprentices, no trainees but a gang of old hands who know what time it is and what third base looks like. Charley Kettering will be thinking up new stuff for us to try. Nick Butler will be improving our minds. Chuck Hughes will be holding the legal wolves at bay. Herbie Hoover will be cracking jokes and working out tables of organization. Senator Capper will be twisting arms in Washington. Connie and Amos will be supervising calisthenics and Walt will be playing the piano. Barney will be figuring out financial angles and doping out policy. Everybody else will be working at his particular skill, and I personally will be passing the cigars, liniment and keeping the boys well-fed and happy. Old Folks at Home Inc. Be sure to send in your application early. Junior, so you too can spend your declining years making monkeys of callow kids waiting to move in on you before you're ready to move out. Give my regards to the family.

Army Orders 100 B-36's, Largest Bomber in World

By The Associated Press

FORT WORTH, Tex., June 10—The Army Air Forces announced today they have ordered 100 B-36's, world's largest bomber.

The six-engine bombers which can carry 10,000 pounds of bombs 10,000 miles are being built by the Consolidated Vultee Aircraft Corporation at its plant here. Company officials said the first of the planes will come off the assembly line this week and be delivered to the AAF in July for static tests.

Harry Woodward, Convair president, said the Fort Worth plant will turn the bombers out at the rate of one per week and that the company expected to complete delivery of the order by the middle of 1949. The 100-plane order represents a sizeable portion of the company's $337,000,000 backlog, he said.

Brig. Gen. Roger Ramey, commanding general of the Eighth Air Force, told reporters who inspected the Convair plant Saturday, that the B-36's would be assigned to his command. The Eighth Air Force is now equipped with B-29's.

GARSSON SAYS MAY OPENED ARMY DOORS

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, June 10—Munitions Maker Henry Garsson testified today that former Congressman Andrew J. May got him in to see top war department officials in 1945 after the army withdrew $1,200,000 it owed a Garsson firm.

Garsson said May made appointments for him with Secretary of War Patterson and Undersecretary Kenneth Royal after he had tried futilely himself to do something at the war department about the "freeze" order.

He added that May, then head of the house military committee, also obtained an appointment for him with former Senator Mead (D-NY), who was then chairman of the senate war investigating committee.

Garsson told the jury at his war fraud trial that the Army held back the $1,200,000 after Mead's committee began investigating Garsson operations. He said he thought the inquiry was the "real reason" for the Army's action.

The witness said the Army still is withholding the $1,200,000 from the Erie Basin Metal Product Co., of Elgin, Ill., a Garsson firm that held war contracts.

May, Garsson and his brother, Murray Garsson, are on trial on charges of wartime bribe conspiracy. May is accused of taking $55,000 from the Garssons for seeking war department favors for the brothers.

German Money Inquiry Asked

Senators Want Airing of Report U.S. Redeeming Marks Printed by Russ.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, June 10—Three Republican senators called today for a full-scale investigation into reports that the United States has redeemed millions of dollars worth of German occupation money printed by Russian authorities.

The three lawmakers—Bridges of New Hampshire, Ferguson of Michigan and Knowland of California—told a reporter in separate interviews that they understand the plates to print the German marks were given to the Russians by American officials.

Among other uses for the occupation money was to pay Allied troops.

Earlier reports have said that the Russian soldiers—drawing large amounts of back pay—paid fabulous black market prices to American GI's for such items as wrist watches and trinkets.

The GI's, in turn, converted the occupation marks into dollars.

The trade became so brisk that American authorities resorted to several methods for discouraging the marks-to-dollars conversion. Finally a script system was devised to replace the occupation currency.

A war department statement on April 21, prompted by reports that the loss to the treasury on these black market dealings might exceed $500,000,000 acknowledged that the army has accumulated a surplus of German currency.

"The present holdings do not, however, exceed future contemplated expenditures," the statement said, adding:

"A complete report on the acquisition and disposal of these holdings is presently being prepared for the information of the appropriate committees of congress."

No such report has come to light on Capitol Hill.

Bridges, chairman of the senate appropriations committee said "my information is that between $400,000,000 and $900,000,000 worth of this money has been, or is being redeemed with American dollars."

RED CROSS PRAISED FOR TEXAS CITY AID

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, June 10 — "Speedy, effective and complete" relief was supplied by the American Red Cross in the Texas City, Tex., disaster last April, a state official of Texas told the Red Cross' 22nd annual convention today.

Col. Paul L. Wakefield, coordinator of relief for the governor of Texas in the blast and fire which struck the port city, said there had been some public criticism of the Red Cross' effectiveness at Texas City, and continued:

"The Red Cross disaster relief was speedy, effective and complete. No one better knows that than the people of Texas city and no one is more eager to admit it than those people."

Meanwhile, some criticism was expressed among delegates to a proposed national blood program announced yesterday by National Chairman Basil O'Connor.

Garrett McEnerney, chairman of the San Francisco chapter, said he thought there was "a sense of haste" in introducing the plan which would provide blood and its derivatives to the nation without charge.

John A. Hill of Toledo, urging caution also, said "opposition being expressed is not so much to the program itself as to the hurry with which it was proposed."

UN Delegates Battle Soviet Police Proposal

By The Associated Press

LAKE SUCCESS, June 10—Security council delegates marshalled more arguments today against Russia's insistence that every big power supply exactly the same number of men, ships and planes to a proposed UN global police force.

Britain and China were among those expected to speak in general debate, and both held views opposed to those of the Soviet Union. Along with the United States and France, the two favor "comparable" contributions.

The Great Lakes evaporate fasted during fall and winter months than during other seasons.

native Sinkiang troops and invading forces.

The dispatch, the agency said, reported that warplanes accompanying the Mongolian cavalry and other troops into Sinkiang strafed Chinese troop concentrations and bombed and strafed civilians and towns in the invasion path.

No Chinese government official here immediately confirmed these reports but an official military spokesman referred The Associated Press to the Central news agency report. The agency is a government organ.

Military sources said it was believed that only a small number of native troops and a few trained Chinese officers comprise the western Sinkiang garrison. The region has been in a state of continued unrest since Outer Mongolia was granted independence.

Military observers said that because of the great distances involved and the lack of readily available forces it was unlikely the government would dispatch adequate defense forces to Sinkiang.

Mortgage Burned At Church Service

A special event which followed the evening service of Emmanuel Baptist church Sunday, was a service in which a mortgage on the parsonage on Homer street was burned. The house, home of Dr. C. E. Hershey, pastor, and Mrs. Hershey and their daughter, Nancy, was purchased a few months ago.

As an unusual feature of such a service, radio messages were received over shortwave from station HCJB in Quito, Ecuador, from which Dr. Hershey and Rev. Marvin Lewis made broadcasts during their recent missionary tour of Central and South American cities. Two radios were set up in the church for this purpose, and from the South American station were conveyed greetings and congratulations to the congregation. Rev. Clarence Jones, director of HCJB, was in charge of the special broadcast.

Scripture for the service was read by James Sanderson, Charles Schaber and Howard Jones, deacons, and a review of events concerning purchase of the parsonage was by trustees, Marion Brown, Paul McAllister, Carl Ford and H. E. Robinson. A member of the congregation when the church was first established, Mrs. Mary Ford, struck the match to burn the mortgage, and as the embers died, the service was closed with prayer by Dr. Hershey.

Two Accidents Listed In City Auto Traffic

Two minor accidents occurred in Marion yesterday, according to the police report.

A car driven by Frank M. Turner, 58, of Galion was going through the alley adjacent to the Woolworth store on West Center street and hit an unloading chute cover which was sticking up. The car slid off, causing damage to a tire, police say.

An auto and tractor trailer were in an accident on North Main street at the Fairground street intersection. Richard E. Graham, 17, of 189 East Walnut was driving an auto and attempted to turn from Fairground onto Main street, hitting the trailer of the car driven by George E. Cummins, 39, of Delphos. Both vehicles were damaged slightly.

LEGISLATURE

majority vote of electors in the affected portions.

An amendment proposed by Sen. David McK Ferguson (R-Guernsey) to exempt mining, quarrying and oil and gas drilling from zoning provisions was defeated 20 to 12.

The senate granted the governor's request for withdrawal of his nomination of Harry M. Miller of Gallipolis to the public utilities commission "for correction."

His term expired Feb. 1 and legislators hinted the appointing date might be changed. They said the senate had delayed confirmation to permit Miller to share in anticipated salary increases.

Sen. Jonathan C. Mason (R-Columbiana) introduced a new measure to increase workmen's compensation benefits $6.25 a week through 1948, except for those now receiving $21 weekly who would get $4 more each week. An appropriation of $1,010,000 was asked to carry out the program.

Tired Kidneys Often Bring Sleepless Nights
Doctors say your kidneys contain 15 miles of tiny tubes or filters which help to purify the blood and keep you healthy. When they get tired and don't work right in the daytime, many people have to get up nights. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder. Don't neglect this condition and lose valuable, restful sleep.
When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may also cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, dizziness, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness.
Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, a stimulant diuretic, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. Doan's give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

Unknown Amazon Region To Be Explored by UN Commission

By The Associated Press

RIO DE JANEIRO, June 10—The largest unknown area of land and water in the world—the 3,000 000 square miles of the Amazon river basin of South America—soon will be investigated by a group of international scientists

Four experts from the United Nations educational, scientific and cultural organization (UNESCO) will begin their study of the dense green jungle probably in September. They hope to collect information to improve living conditions in the tropics

Dr E J H. Corner, former director of the Singapore botanical gardens, will head the expedition Dr Basil Malamos of Greece, and Dr A Metraux, UNESCO ethnographer, will join Dr Paulo Carneiro, Brazilian member of the UNESCO executive board, in the study

This group, assigned from UNESCO headquarters in Paris, will establish a research center in Belem at the mouth of the Amazon in northern Brazil. Representatives from Bolivia, Ecuador, Colombia Peru, Venezuela, and from French, Dutch and British Guiana, as well as Brazilian and United States scientists will be invited to Belem to help plan the project

Organize First Survey

They wil lorganize the first internationally coordinated survey of the vast Amazon jungle into which explorers have cautiously ventured for many centuries but never have completely penetrated or learned its secrets

Seven countries are partly drained by the Amazon, sometimes called the greatest river in the world Its 5,000 miles carries four times the volume of the Mississippi and more than all the rivers of the European continent combined

The swift Amazon is not as long as the Mississippi-Missouri (6 000 miles) nor the Nile in Africa 5 500), but it drains a basin as large as all Europe It has more than 1,000 tributaries and carries fresh water 150 miles out to sea

In its windings and branches through the lush green jungle of northern Brazil into Peru, Colombia and Bolivia, the Amazon system has 30,000 navigable miles Ocean liners travel inland more than 1,000 miles to Manaus, once a great rubber center.

Floods 150 000 Square Miles

When the great river overflows its marshy green banks every year, it floods more than 150,000 square miles

No great part of the Amazon basin is productive, for no one ever has succeeded in continuing any large scale undertaking inside the dark, damp jungle Malaria is ever present from seething swarms of mosquitos, along with hookworm and other diseases

Since explorers have met Indians in the jungle, cold germs have wiped out almost entire Indian villages

Some settlers have maintained small areas of civilization on the edges of the jungle A colony of Japanese who settled along the Amazon about 20 years ago when Brazil offered free land for cultivation still are there

Rubber Bubble Bursts

The region around Manaus enjoyed prosperity during the rubber boom just after the turn of the century but the rubber produced in the Orient soon deflated it

Under pressure of the Allied war effort, Brazil sent thousands of volunteers up the Amazon to restart large scale rubber production financed by the United States Production increased, but the rubber army later disbanded

The Ford Motor company, which had developed an extensive research plant on the Amazon to cultivate high grade rubber, recently abandoned the project on which it had spent millions The whole plant was sold for only $250,000

Only savage Indians so far have managed to survive in the wilds of the Amazon valley They risk their lives every time they spear fish in the Amazon for their meals

Besides alligators which abound the Amazon has an eight-inch man-eating fish called the Piranha If a man or beast falls into the infested parts of the river, thousands of these little silver fish rip the skin off the bones in about a minute.

A drop of blood on the water will tell whether piranhas are present They will churn the water for 20 feet around. Cattlemen crossing branches of the Amazon usually sacrifice a bloody cow while moving cattle across stream hundreds of feet away

This is the area which the UNESCO scientists plan to survey for humanitarian purposes They expect to gather data on tropical diseases, plant life, habitation, sanitation and farming in order to improve man's lot in such places all over the world

Traffic Jams Paradise (Southern California)

By HAL BOYLE

By The Associated Press

LOS ANGELES, June 10 — There is a traffic jam in paradise —known on the map as Southern California

The quickest way to bring terror into the face of a Californian is to say

'My, this is a lovely country I think I'll settle down here"

He will give you a look of pained and utter dismay For he has all the neighbors he want, now—more than he wants He would like to censor Horace Greeley's advice "Go west young man" He doesn't want to hear anybody say 'California, here I come'"

Hal Boyle

He has come to the conclusion California has over-sold the rest of America on the virtues of the balmy life here That life is getting less heavenly every day as thousands of outlanders arrive to set up housekeeping

"The whole country seems to want to move here" complained one resident "They've crowded everything out but the climate.

'A lot of people think they can come out here and live free in an orange grove if they don't find work But those days are gone If they try that now they'll find themselves full of buckeho You can't pick oranges for nothing any more '

Chambers of Commerce and local booster societies may take pride in California's great post-war growth But the average citizen harrassed by increasing housing shortages and rising prices, would like to put a fence around the state with 'keep out" signs to discourage prospective settlers

New Chums Worst Offenders

This attitude is particularly strong among new arrivals As soon as they find a job and a place to park the baby buggy they join in the chorus

"What do we want any more people out here for? We're crowded enough already!"

Families here a generation or two don't holler so loud They simply remark

The old California died the day the movie industry came '

All southern Californians—new or old—just take it for granted now that the east coast is going downhill and that here is the future area of American population and power.

Los Angeles Biggest City

"In another ten years the Los Angeles area will have ten million people," they say with dismal conviction "and in ten years more it will be the biggest city the world has ever seen"

The prospect makes them unhappy rather than proud The city is growing so fast people complain they can't move out of it.

One man bought a country acre out in San Fernando valley a year ago

"I'm twenty-two miles from city hall," he said, "and already they're talking of putting sidewalks in front of my place I don't want them I moved out here to get away from sidewalks and stoplights"

The chief objection most residents here have to further "colonization" is that it boosts the cost of living

'This used to be one of the cheapest areas in the United States to live in" one said "Now it is one of the highest

Food Prices Rocket

"For example seven years ago my wife could get two heads of lettuce for a nickel. Now one costs her eighteen cents. That's typical of how things have gone up

That same high cost of living has caused many people who came out here to establish homes to give up after a few weeks or months and go back where they came from. They found too much trouble in paradise.

Recently one rattling jalopy passed through town with a battered radiator pointed east It held six children and three adults A baby buggy and a washtub were strapped on its roof, gunny sacks full of clothes and household belongings were roped to the fenders On the rear of the jalopy was scrawled this defiant sign

'Goodbye California—and all your goi durn geraniums"

"Rural Daughters" Win Top Prizes In Pie Baking Contest

Lions club members Monday combined business with pleasure in the regular luncheon-meeting at Hotel Harding when a committee selected acted as judges to determine the winner of a recent pie-baking contest.

The contest was sponsored by the Palace theater in connection with the motion picture "The Farmers' Daughter" to determine whether a "country daughter" or a "city daughter" could make the best pie. The first prize went to Mrs. Ray V. Lucas of near Marion, second to Miss Marie Benzler of near Prospect and third to Miss Katherine Hazen of 314 South Prospect street. Judges were Joe Halberstein, Bob McMahon, Eddie Ruzzo and Bob Haldeman.

The "business" came in judging the winners, but eating the pies was strictly "pleasure," with Lions choosing between chocolate cream, pumpkin and cherry pies entered by the winners respectively.

Paul Frye and Robert Scott delegates to the recent state convenion held in Toledo, gave a report.

Installation of officers to both Lions and Lioness clubs will be held following a dinner-dance June 23 at Hotel Harding, with music for dancing furnished by Don Lister and his orchestra. Guy Brentlinger of Lima will be installing officer. Mr. Brentlinger was recently indorsed to run for the office of third vice president of Lions International in the election to be held next year.

Guests included Bert Freed, Leroy Swindler and Sanford Marshall.

died, shortly after 9 p. m. and 10 p. m., McLaughlin arrived on the scene and began his investigation.

The superintendent told reporters that he asked a friend, James Dooley, a free lance writer, to help him prepare an announcement about the babies' deaths, and that was about 4 a. m. when the announcement was completed.

First notice to the Massillon police was about 8:15 p. m. Friday, and the first officer to arrive Friday night was Capt. Clifford Davenport, Lincke previously had said.

Meanwhile, Assistant Stark County Prosecutor W. Bernard Rodgers said another voluntary lie detector test would be given in about a week to Harry E. Morton, father of one of the infants found dying of fractured skulls in their cribs.

Morton, 36-year-old electrical worker, volunteered for the test conducted yesterday at police headquarters in Cleveland. Rodgers and David L. Cowles, superintendent of scientific investigation for the Cleveland police department, both said the test was "inconclusive."

Rodgers, who said the examination was "merely routine," emphasized that Morton was not under arrest.

Cowles said proper emotional factors could not have been present for the test because funeral services were held earlier in the day for Morton's nine-week-old daughter, Rosemary, one of the victims, and because while being taken to Cleveland news of the test was heard in the car radio.

Both of these were considered too disturbing for proper atmosphere, Cowles declared.

Officials investigating the case said both accident and murder theories were being pursued.

Reviving belief that the Morton child and 10-week-old Diane J. Brand were slain by a demented killer, Stark County Prosecutor D. Deane McLaughlin said:

"I can see where an accident might occur at the hands of a child patient or nurse when one baby is involved, but not when two are found dying and a search has been made for a third."

The prosecutor was referring to the fact that when Nurse Marian Silleck found the dying infants —only occupants of room 407 in the pediatrics ward — the bed clothing on a third crib was discovered pulled back.

Officers Chosen By Silver Cross Circle

Officers were elected for the new year by the Silver Cross Circle of King's Daughters at a meeting Thursday with Mrs. Andrew Morey of 577 East Center street. Mrs. J. C. Scheifler, Mrs. F. W. Williams, Mrs. E. E. Lynch and Mrs. P. F. Callahan served as assistant hostesses.

Mrs. Hugo Malo was chosen leader; Mrs. W. F. Fletcher, first vice leader; Mrs. Williams, second vice leader; Mrs. B. H. Rice, secretary; Mrs. R. E. Acker, assistant secretary; Miss Jesse Lindsay, treasurer, and Miss Gertrude Carleton, assistant treasurer.

A memorial service for Mrs. W. E. Bailey and Mrs. F. D. Bentz was conducted by Mrs. Fred Moore and Mrs. Acker, and Memory Pearls are to be given for them.

Mrs. J. P. Probst gave the life of Charles Drew from the study book, "Great American Negroes," and Mrs. Williams read an Indian legend, "When the Birds First Came." The circle will hold a picnic June 11 at Maplecrest in Bucyrus, the King's Daughters' home for girls.

BOOKIE JOINT RAIDED SOUTH OF NEWARK

By The Associated Press

NEWARK, O., June 10—Authorities said today they had smashed an apparently large-scale horse race bookie joint and gambling house one mile southeast of U. S. route 40 near Etna in a night-time raid by Sheriff Boe Francis.

Announcement of the raid was made jointly by common pleas Judge Charles B. Holtsberry, Prosecutor Brandt S. Hervey and Sheriff Francis.

Sheriff Francis said he found six Columbus men, whose names were withheld, loading slot machines on a truck. A man who gave his name as Joe Huffman, Columbus, was booked on a charge of operating a gambling house and freed under $1,000 bond.

Huffman, said Sheriff Francis, declared the house had been in operation five weeks.

BUCYRUS POSTMAN ENDS 30 YEARS OF SERVICE

Estimates He's Walked Equivalent of 6 Times Around World.

Special to The Star

BUCYRUS, June 10—Terminating 30 years as a postman, V. F. Berry, veteran mail carrier, has been retired and is now on a permanent "vacation" at his home. Mr. Berry carried his last mail last week but his retirement does not become officially effective until the end of the month.

Mr. Berry, who has estimated that he has walked the equivalent of six times around the world during his 30 years on the route, spent the entire time since becoming a carrier on the same route, that of the central and southeast central section of the city, a 17-mile-a-day trek.

Mr. Berry has no plans other than to rest up and work at his home. A trip to Washington with Mrs. Berry is in the offing sometime this year, however, the retired postman disclosed.

Two Persons Hurt In Bucyrus Mishaps

Special to The Star

BUCYRUS, June 10—Traffic mishaps caused injury to two persons and brought several motorists into court for hearings on violations of traffic regulations over the weekend. Accidents within the city limits brought the total to date this month to 13 and 123 for the year.

Richard Pollock, 23, is in City hospital with a back injury received when the milk truck belonging to the Jersey Maid dairy, overturned when a wheel struck the soft berm at the side of the highway on the River road Sunday morning.

The daughter of Dale Dobbins, riding on the front seat of his truck with him suffered a laceration of the head when she was thrown against the windshield when Dobbins applied the brakes to avoid a collision with a car operated by A. W. Fuller of Bellevue. The mishap occured on route 30-N west of Bucyrus Saturday afternoon.

MAXHIMER'S HOMER IN TWELFTH FRAME NIPS LIMA, 9-8

Pivorunas' Relief Hurling Holds Terriers As Cubs Fight Uphill

By DON C. BURTON

A home run by Dwight Maxhimer with none on and one out in the twelfth inning climaxed an uphill fight as the Marion Cubs defeated Lima at Lincoln park last night 9-8 before an even 1,200 fans.

The Cubs played the game under the leadership of John Edington, Marion boy, while Manager Nelson Burbrink was sitting in the stands, biting his finger nails, under suspension by Ohio State league president Frank Colley for what Colley called "delaying tactics" in Friday night's game with Dayton.

One of the best relief jobs of the season gave newcomer Gasper Pivorunas credit for the victory.

Gasper took over in the ninth, after Bill Rosin struckout for starter Ed Witowski, and held the Terriers hitless for four rounds. He walked two and those were the only ones to get on bases in the four rounds.

The Terriers hit the ball hard in the early rounds against Witowski and piled up a lead of 7 to 2 going into the bottom of the eighth although presenting a comedy of errors in the field. The Terriers registered 11 miscues.

A triple play by the Lima infield—first of the season in the Ohio State league—dampened the Cubs' spirits for several innings and ultimate defeat seemed certain. A run by Marion in the eighth came when a double error by Tennant put Maxhimer on second. He moved to third on an infield out and scored on a long fly by Bruce Adams.

Adams was substituting for Manager Burbrink in the Cub lineup and did a very creditable job behind the plate as well as batting in three runs with a double and single as well as the fly. Adams has had the misfortune to have to sit in the shadow of the loop's outstanding catcher all year and had little chance to do anything but warm-up the relief hurlers.

Triple Play in 3rd

The triple play by Lima came in the third inning. With the bases full and none out Mel Nelson, who hit in tough luck all night, lined a drive that Tennant, shortstop, caught as he dived and fell down. All the Cub runners thinking the ball was a certain hit were on their ponies running. Tennant tossed to second to erase Shuford and Huddleston fired to Reilly to nip Forbes before he could return.

The Terriers made a lone run

Jack Owens To Pitch Local Legion Opener Tomorrow

MANAGER BURBRINK MAY RETURN TO HIS DUTIES TOMORROW

Loop President Colley Hints Cub Pilot's Reinstatement Due Soon.

Manager Nelson Burbrink is expected to be re-instated in time for the game here tomorrow night.

Frank M. Colley, president of the Ohio State league, indicated as much to The Star in a telephone conversation today. Colley said the first intention was to give the Marion skipper a three-day setdown, but as the Cubs are to have a big night here tomorrow featuring a preliminary game between the Lima and Marion Legion teams, he made the suspension indefinite so he could still re-instate Burbrink in time for the big night.

Only During Ball Games

Colley said the suspension covered only during the ball games. He indicated that the Marion leader would be allowed to work with the team in pre-game practice and then could sit in the stands, but could not direct the team during the game.

Colley's suspension of Burbrink followed a protest by Ival Goodman of the Dayton team on the grounds that the action of the Marion manager delayed the game Friday night with the Indians leading 4-0 in the fourth and rain threatening.

The Dayton manager accused Burbrink of preventing the two teams from playing a legal game which would have required five innings with Marion behind in the score.

Colley said the report of the umpires, McGowan and Staley verified the protest of Goodman.

Sat in Stands

Burbrink sat in the stands last night. The players so accustomed to looking to him for instructions seemed lost at times. Burbrink said he seemed very small as the 1,200 fans kept looking to him thinking he was directing the team.

He later moved over to the press box so he would not be accused by the umpires of directing the team through signals. In the tenth frame when Hollingshead got to first with none out, Burbrink wanted Smith to move him up with a bunt and kept saying it under his breath.

Walker Cooper, Bust Last Year, Beauty This Season

By The Associated Press

A $175,000 bust last year, big Walker Cooper is proving to be a quarter of a million dollar beauty this season.

The husky New York Giants' catcher currently is hitting at .303 and ranks fourth in the league 33 runs batted in.

Cooper slammed two home runs yesterday as the Giants slugged out a 13-10 victory over the Pittsburgh Pirates at the Polo grounds. The win, coupled with Cincinnati's 9-6 victory over Brooklyn at Ebbets field last night, gave the Giants undisputed possession of first place in the National league.

Crowd Leaves Too Soon

With most of the crowd of 13,069 walking toward the exits, the Giants trailing 8-1 in the last of the eighth, suddenly shelled starter Kirby Higbe, Edson Bahr, Hank Behrman and Art Herring for eight hits and two walks, good for eight runs to take a 9-8 advantage. Cooper's first home run with one on gave the Giants the one-run margin.

Pittsburgh fought back with two in the top of the ninth to go ahead 10-9, but the Giants came storming back with four in their half, Cooper's second circuit clout with two aboard giving him five runs batted in for the day.

Braves Nip Cubs

In the other National league game, the Braves, behind the one-hit pitching of Charlie (Red) Barrett, shut out the Chicago Cubs in a night game in Boston 1-0 and the St. Louis Cardinals divided a doubleheader with the Phillies in Philadelphia. The Redbirds won the opener 4-2 but dropped the second 2-1 in 15 innings.

In the sixth inning of the night-cap Stan Musial swung, his bat broke in half and part of it sailed out and hit Rowe on his pitching arm.

The veteran hurler, whose record stands at seven victories and one defeat, suffered a deep cut on the elbow. Manager Ben Chapman said he did not think the injury was "too serious."

The Chicago White Sox overcame an 8-2 New York Yankee lead and won 9-8 in 10 innings.

The Detroit Tigers were soundly trounced by the Philadelphia Athletics in Detroit 11-3 and the Boston Red Sox defeated the Indians in a battle of home runs in Cleveland, 7-5. The Browns nipped the Washington Senators 1-0 in a night game in St. Louis.

ROSEBERRY WINS 7TH STRAIGHT TRIUMPH FOR CLASS C CLUB

Ex-Card Walt Lammers Helps in 3-2 Victory at Winston-Salem.

Joe Roseberry, Marion boy who played here last year with the Cardinals, won his seventh straight game June 5 for his Winston-Salem Cards of the Carolina league.

Joe had the help of Walter Lammers, former Marion third baseman.

Walt hit a two bagger and played sensationally at the hot corner, retiring the side in one inning with three great plays, reports the Winston-Salem, N. C., Journal.

Lammers hit a double in the first inning which extended his hitting streak to 10 straight games.

Roseberry got one of his team's four hits while holding Martinsville to six and winning 3 to 2. Leo Perini was back in the game after a layoff due to an injury. He went hitless in three trips.

Roseberry was hit on the arm by a pitched ball in a recent game which caused a neat blue spot on his arm.

The Carolina league is having an over-dose of bean balls according to the Winston-Salem paper.

Burbrink Tops List In Everything You Can Do with a Bat

Nelson Burbrink, Marion manager, leads the Ohio State league in five batting departments, according to figures released today by the Howe News Bureau of Chicago, which includes games of June 8.

The Marion skipper has the highest batting mark with an average of .441 made on 45 hits in 102 times up. Second to Burbrink is Jack Maisch, Lima catcher with a .392 average.

Big Nelse also tops the loop in runs batted in with 37, three more than Charles Hopkins, Newark outfielder. The figures also give Burbrink the lead in total bases with 68 whcih is four better than Hopkins. Hopkins has a batting mark of only .297. With four home runs, the Cub leader is tied with Carl Raucher, Lima outfielder and Hopkins in this department.

Bill Bartholomew, Zanesville gardner, leads in stolen bases with 15.

Bob Brunner, Newark right-hander is tops among the hurlers with four wins against no losses. Bill Rosin leads the Marion pitchers, having a four and two record. Twelve pitchers have won one or more games without defeat. Following is the list of 15 leading batters who have taken part in at least 15 games. Added also are the averages of all Marion batters.

Ashley Independents Split Doubleheader

Special to The Star

ASHLEY, June 10—Ashley independents split a doubleheader here Sunday with Cardington taking the first game 2-1, dropping the second 8-7.

Riley hurled for Ashley in the first game and Bartlett worked behind the plate. Dailey was the losing pitcher. Page was the winner of the second and Garrison of Ashley was charged with the loss.

Next Sunday Ashley will play host to Edison in two games. The first is scheduled for 1:30 p. m.

Starting Lineup for Debut Til Against Lima Club Nominated

By GEORGE ROEST

After a long wartime lapse, American Legion junior baseball will return to Marion tomorrow night at Lincoln park at 6 p. m.

A team culled from more than 100 applicants will carry Marion's banner against a Lima Legion team in the first game of a double header. The Marion Cubs will entertain the Lima Terriers in the second tilt—a regularly scheduled Ohio State league contest.

Owens To Pitch

Nelson Irvin, head coach of the localites, has announced that Jack Owens, Harding pitching mainstay for the past two summers, will probably take the hill tomorrow. He's a right-handed heavyweight, carrying 210 pounds on a five-foot, 10-inch frame.

The infield sports a quartet of Harding athletes with Bob Ralston covering first, Jim Rea holding down the keystone, Jim Hill cavorting at the "hot corner" and Dick Thomas, holder of one of Harding's highest slugging averages, playing shortstop.

Harding faces dot the outfield, also. Dick Huddle, Dick Riddle and Bill Mathias, who have etched their names in President records as heavy hitters, will patrol the garden.

Train Sights on Tourney

Following tomorrow's game, the Legion entry will train their sights on the tournaments which start in July. The tournaments are divided into district, regional, state and national classifications.

Other state teams will probably have a jump on the Marion entry because of longer organization and more experience but the locals plan to book as many games as possible between now and the start of the meets.

Harding band will entertain

BOSTON OUT-HOMERS CLEVELAND INDIANS

65,000 Expected To See Tonight's Battle.

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, June 10—Some 65,000 persons are expected to flock to Cleveland stadium tonight to see the Cleveland Indians battle the champion Boston Red Sox.

They tied back to a .500 rating and a three-way tie for third place with Boston and Philadelphia, the latter two homers yesterday were overshadowed by three ring-side circuit clouts by the Beantown sluggers as Boston won 7-5 in the opener of a three-game series.

Starting starter Don Black from the mound, the Sox took a 5-0 lead in the first three innings. Billie Tebbetts rapped a single in the second and Don Gutteridge slammed an inside-the park homer and Bobby Doerr blasted a two-run homer in the third.

Cleveland's offensive got under way in the third when pitch-hitter Hank Ruszkowski doubled and Ed Peck slammed his sixth homer into the right field stands.

Manager Lou Boudreau, who came into the league batting lead, homered in the fifth to tie the score, 5-5, after the Indians scored a pair of runs in the fourth on a walk, singles by Eddie Robinson and Al Lopez, and Sam Mele's error.

In the eighth, Mele rapped one of relief pitcher Bryan Stephens' pitches into the left field seats to score two runs

STARS THROW EVERYTHING INCLUDING SMITTY, AT A'S

Whip Ashland 17-2 as Team's Sponsor Gets Cheers, Then Jeers.

Smitty's All-Star softballers threw everything in the book at Ashland Merchants, including Smitty, last night at Ashland. They won 17-2.

Harold Smith, team manager and sponsor, entered the game in the sixth inning and rapped out a clean single to right center. Cheers turned to jeers when he let two ground balls go by him at second.

The All-Stars pounded three Ashland hurlers for 16 hits in getting the win. They were checked for a while, but went bunt happy in the fifth inning and chased eight runs across.

Leading hitter of the game was Fritz Walters who hit three for five.

Sunday night the All-Stars will entertain the Lima Robbin's club at Crystal Lake. Smitty hopes to have an opponent for his girl's team lined up for the preliminary.

Presbyterian, St. Mary No. 1, U. B., Trinity Win in Softball

United Brethren behind the four hit pitching of Kunkle downed St. Mary No. 2, 7-3, last night in the Sunday School softball league. Four hits and an error gave U. B. its big five-run second inning. Kunkle fanned seven men over the seven inning stretch.

The honor of the Irish was upheld by St. Mary No. 1 as they downed Greenwood 5-2 in eight innings.

An identical score was turned in in the First Presbyterian Forest Lawn Presbyterian game. First Presbies got the win. Spurlock turned in a circuit clout, Myers hit a double and triple, and Risler got a double.

Trinity snowed Epworth 22-0. The Methodists could take some measure of satisfaction from Nash's spoiling Trinity pitcher Rice's bid for a no-hitter. French and Rice were big guns of the afternoon as each got three for four. One of Rice's was a four bagger. He fanned eight and walked eight.

But the boys on the field were not of the same mind and forgot the play. It was very evident at this point that he was not in communication with the boys on the field.

However he called the turn on Dwight Maxhimer in the twelfth inning. He kept saying so only the workers in the press box could hear, "Come on Max hit it out of the park" and Max must have been pyshic for that is what Maxhimer did to win the game 9 to 8.

CUBS

in the ninth to give them an 8 to 3 lead which looked large but the Cubs came up in the final ninth and tallied five runs to tie the score and run the game into extra innings.

Hollingshead was hit by a pitched ball and John Smith singled. They both moved up on Bobzean's infield out and scored on a double to center by Maxhimer. Max tallied a moment later on another double by Shuford who moved up on an infield out by Forbes. After Nelson walked, Bruce Adams came through with a clean hit to center and Shuford scored. Slater's throw to third was wild and Nelson tallied the important tieing run. Pivorunas struckout to end the wild melee.

Threatening in Tenth

The Cubs were threatening in the tenth. Holly led off and was safe on an error by Reilly who had four miscues to match his four safe hits. Without Manager Burbrink, the Cubs forgot to sacrifice him along, the evident play in the situation. Smith flied to left instead. Then Bobzean flied to right which would have sent the hustling Holly to third, if he had been on second. Reilly then booted Maxhimer's roller but Holly got only to second. With the count one ball and one strike on Schuford Strahs relieved Ed Sandy, small starting lefthander for Lima. Strahs walked Shuford and then struckout Forbes to end the threat.

A great catch by Shuford may have saved the game in the eleventh.

With two away and none on, Strahs, big hurler, hit one to right that had the fans holding their breath as it looked like it was going over. Big Shuford, likable southern boy, raced back and stabbed the ball with a one-handed backhand catch against the wall to retire the side.

Lima Easy Meat

Nelson led off with a hit in the bottom half of the eleventh but died on base. Lima was easy meat for Pivorunas in the top of the twelfth going down one, two, three. In the final session Bobzean fied to center before Maxhimer drove high over the left field wall for the score that sent the crowd home in a happy mood.

The Cards go to Lima tonight for a single game and return here tomorrow night to again meet the Terriers in a game to follow a contest between the Legion teams of the two cities. The Legion game will start at 6 and and will last seven innings. It must be over, however, by 7:30 to give the two pro teams time for the pre-game warmup before the regular scheduled affair. The regular league umpires have been given permission by President Colley to work the Legion game.

Newark Blasts Zanesville, 11-1, To Edge Upward

By The Associated Press

The Newark Browns strengthened their runner-up position in the Ohio State baseball league Monday by setting the circuit-leading Zanesville Dodgers back on their heels 11-1.

In a game at Newark, Bill Woolard of the Browns, chalked up his fifth straight win. The Dodgers, however, retained their loop lead with 22 games won and 10 lost against Newark's 20 games won and 14 lost.

Third-place Dayton Indians won a twilight game from the Springfield Giants 3-1 at Dayton. Joe Jackson, the Dayton pitcher, had a one-hit shutout going into the ninth, but an error by a teammate paved the way for the lone score by Springfield.

The Richwood Roses won a doubleheader from the Muncie Packers 9-4 and 8-4 at Muncie. The Roses got 19 hits during the evening and had the help of two Muncie errors in each contest.

LOVE'S PERILOUS PATH

By ADELE GARRISON

AT Mary's tense request, I purposely put on my best "schoolma'am" manner and faced her

"Do you, or do you not, want us to have an uninterrupted session at which even Aunt Katharine will not be present?" I asked her

"That, of course," she replied, "but you and I have had our breakfast, Dr Twitchell and Aunt Katharine have given me their blessing, and I have seen Noel and Faith You say Uncle Dicky is asleep, and will be for hours, so where do the interruptions come in?"

I wrinkled my nose at her and felt that I was at my top form in histrionics when I managed a light little laugh. I knew, better than Mary, what I was facing in the coming interview, and never in my life had I felt more utterly mirthless

"I see I shall have to explain the situation to you in words of one syllable or thereabouts," I told her. "First, there can be no privacy for us while Faith is in the apartment. But it will not be long now before Olina will call for her and take her to school She offered to take Dicky's place and mine on that chore while you are ill"

"That's like Lina," Mary said Then she put a quick, alarmed question.

"Do I have to see her?"

Needn't See Olina

"No. You don't have to see anybody except Dr Twitchell, Aunt Katharine and me, unless you wish," I assured her "You'll have to put up with us for the duration, I am afraid, but you need see no one else, not even Noel or Faith, unless you ask for them"

She gave a quick, relieved sigh and sank back against the cushions of her chair

"I'm a heel, also a Gadarene swine," she said, with her usual extravagance of speech, "but I can't—simply can't—face anybody outside this family except Noel Uncle Dicky and Faith are my family, you know, and the rest will have to be patient"

"They will be," I promised her. "They understand—"

"How neat am I to the bars of the booby-hatch?" she quirked "And Uncle Dicky would love that alliteration It's right down his alley"

"Isn't it?" I countered, purposely ignoring the macabre words of the alliteration

"Now I'm going to risk some un-asked advice Yes, I know that kind is always noisome, but I think, if you'll take it, you won't find the waiting for our private session so tedious"

Shoot All the Arrows

"Go ahead!" she told me "Shoot all the arrows in the quiver"

"First," I said, "I'm going to tell you that the minute Faith leaves the apartment for school, I shall ask Aunt Katharine to look you over, and then she will go into the sitting room, shut the door, and you and I will be—"

"Alone at last!" Mary burlesqued But I noted fearfully the tensity in her eyes, the tautness of her muscles

"Yes, school-ma'am and pupil, all ready for study," I said, and she interrupted me again

"What's the odoriferous advice?" she demanded

"Simply that you curl up on the couch with the best 'who-dun-it' that I've seen in months, by a new author, and really put your mind on it I'll warrant you won't look up until Aunt Katharine comes in to tell me Faith is ready for her good-bye kiss I couldn't let her go without that"

Will Try

"I'd shoot you at sunrise if you pulled that trick on Faith," she said belligerently "And I'll try your 'who-dun-it'"

"That's my own girl," I told her, reaching out my hands to her

In the next minute I had ensconsed her on the couch, with an afghan over her, the book on a tipped, shelf-like reading device swung across the couch, and a shaded reading lamp illuminating the pages

I do not know how much she read, but she turned the pages conscientiously However I noticed that when Katharine tapped at the door, she dropped the book and listened tensely to our colloquy

With Faith soundly kissed and sent off with Olina, I told Katharine that I wished to be alone with Mary for an hour or two if she approved. She looked Mary over, gave her consent and then vanished into the sitting room

Mary sat up with feverish haste but I put her back on her pillows

"We have to thrash out something first," I said "You believe you've lost your memory completely, don't you?"
